

The calendar of your choice

The year 2000 is of special significance to everyone. It marks the end of a century and with it the last 12 months of the millennium when Zoroastrians have the opportunity to think up master-plans and to launch lofty missions whereby the message of the religion and the survival of the community is ensured. This being the leap year, the Shahenshahi and Kadmi calendars will be further removed from the Fasli one for whilst the latter will accommodate the sixth Gatha day, Roz-e Wahizag to ensure that their New Year starts on March 21, the Shahenshahis and Kadmis with their 365-day fixture will observe their New Year a day earlier on August 21 and July 22 respectively.

Accommodated in this Gregorian calendar are the mahs and rozs of the Shahenshahi, Kadmi and Fasli calendars to enable the different sections of the community to follow the calendar of their choice. While the abbreviated version of the mah for each calendar is specified at the top of the page (please refer to the list of abbreviations in case of doubt), in the case of the rozs mentioned against each date the first line bears the Shahenshahi and Kadmi roz and the second line, the Fasli roz. During the months of July and August when the Shahenshahi and Kadmi rozs do not tally beginning with the first Kadmi Gatha day (i.e. July 17) and ending with the last Shahenshahi Gatha day (i.e. August 20), the first line bears the Shahenshahi roz, the second line, the Kadmi roz, and the last line, the Fasli roz.

Listed here are the abbreviations of the mahs: Fravardin (Frav), Ardibehesht (Ardi), Khordad (Khor), Tir (Tir), Amardad (Amar), Shahrevar (Shah), Meher (Meh), Avan (Avan), Adar (Adar), Dae (Dae), Bahman (Bahm), Spandarmad (Span).

Before the three calendars came into existence, the sole one used was in tune with the seasons, with the New Year being observed in spring. To ensure this harmony with nature and to synchronize it with the solar calendar of 365¼ days, the ancient Zoroastrians intercalated an extra month of 30 days, Spandarmad, every 120 years ($\frac{1}{4} \times 120 = 30$ days). As per the existing records, the last time a month was intercalated was somewhere between 1125 and 1131 AC. This correction in the religious calendar was apparently done by the community in India, without the knowledge of those in Iran. The difference of one month was realized some six centuries later when Mobed Jamasp Velayati visited Surat from Kerman.

Around the mid 18th century a group of priests from Surat decided to adopt the Iranian calendar and called themselves the Kadims — the ancient ones. The others chose to refer to themselves as the Shahenshahis — following the royal calendar. Both the groups were insistent that theirs was the right calendar. Thereafter neither group intercalated the additional Spandarmad month with the result that the Shahenshahi New Year is now in August, and the Kadmi New Year observed by the Iranis in India is in July.

The Iranis observe March 21, the spring equinox as their New Year for it is considered nature's day of transformation when everything with the grace of life manifests a physical resurrection after the months of harsh, cold winter and hibernation. The Zoroastrians in India who consider Jamshedi Navroz or March 21 as their New Year are the Faslis who have their roots in the Zarhosti Fasli Sal Mandal founded by Kharshedji Cama in 1906. Following the leap year logic, they add a sixth Gatha day, Roz-e Wahizag, every four years to ensure that their New Year is permanently celebrated on March 21. Besides the New Year, the devotional gahambar days too would then be appropriately observed in the correct seasons, and praying of the Rapithvin (midday) gah which is recommended in spring and summer when the sun is hotter makes logical sense instead of the present practice of praying this gah during the cold months because the Shahenshahi and Kadmi calendars have slipped back in time.

Yazdegirdi 1369/70 for all three, Shahenshahi, Kadmi and Fasli calendars, dates back to the coronation of the last Zoroastrian Sasanian King Yazdegird III in 632 AC. Next to the month line atop every page, readers will notice the year according to the Yazdegirdi era (AY 1369 or 1370, where AY stands for Anno Yazdegirdi = in the year of Yazdegird).

Last year we had detailed the significance of each roz in a month, the gahambars, paravs and other significant jashan days, as also the anniversaries of the fire-temples in India, Pakistan and Iran. This year we are carrying the lists of Zoroastrian associations overseas and in India, as compiled from the 1998 Directory of Zarathushtris in North America and the 1998 Directory of Pune Zoroastrians. Readers may also find handy the list of dharamshalas in India obtained from the Directory of the Parsee Zoroastrian Residents of Surat, 1999 and the facts corroborated with The Zoroastrian Pilgrim's Guide by Marzban J. Giara.

In response to our letters addressed to the Zoroastrian bodies and institutions, we were intimated by the K. R. Cama Oriental Institute that they will be organizing the Third International Congress from January 6-9, 2000 when 16 international and 17 national scholars will be presenting papers. The World Zoroastrian Organisation which is celebrating its 20th anniversary has scheduled a series of lectures by Prof Stanley Insler in London on May 13 and 14, 2000. The rest of the Zoroastrian world seems to be readying for the Seventh World Zoroastrian Congress from December 28, 2000 to January 1, 2001 at Houston, Texas, USA which has for its theme: "A Zarathushti Odyssey."

Parsiana wishes to thank Dastur (Dr) Kaikhusroo JamaspAsa for his guidance while compiling this special supplement. We are grateful to Godiwalla Caterers for sponsoring the Parsiana calendar. Their largesse has enabled us to bring down the cover price from Rs 30 to Rs 20.

Address Access

Zoroastrians often seek to establish contact with their coreligionists in different parts of India and abroad or seek affordable temporary abode at different destinations. This list of Zoroastrian associations in India and overseas as also dharamshalas and sanatoria in India is reflective of the varied areas where the community members have settled.

The data has been compiled using the 1998 Directory of Zarathushtris in North America, the 1998 Directory of Pune Zoroastrians, the Directory of the Parsee Zoroastrian Residents of Surat, 1999 and The Zoroastrian

Pilgrim's Guide. Errors in terms of name or designation of contact person, where known to Parsiana, have been corrected. We have further sought to authenticate the information by writing to each of the associations. Responses sent have been incorporated till the time of publication.

It is quite possible that some of the associations have been disbanded or cease to function. Close to 90 percent of the associations have not replied to our circular letter indicating their indifference or change in address or cessation of the organization.

Do you have a G6PD enzyme deficiency?

The G6PD enzyme deficiency, common among the Parsis, makes them highly susceptible to certain drugs. The deficiency may cause jaundice in the newborn and severe hemolytic crisis (destruction of red blood cells) in adults. Ask your family doctor to arrange for a blood test to detect whether you have G6PD enzyme deficiency. If you happen to be a G6PD-D patient, it is essential that you carry your card at all times so that in any emergency you would receive appropriate treatment.
